

Applicant testing for Amateur Extra class license should include morse as a requirement because this class should be familiar with all amateur modes, and morse is an excellent basic emergency mode when others fail.